French fine furniture from Allot Frères Workshops

Specialists in luxury cabinet making, Allot Frères Workshops will take part for the first time in the Parisian Maison & Objet (House & Object) trade show, from next September 5th to 9th. They will in particular be unveiling their latest creations.

Awarded the Prize for Living Heritage Enterprise in 2006 by the French Ministry of Economy, Employment and Finance, Allot Frères Workshops remain to this day the only cabinet makers in France to perform the eight trades that make up furniture creation. They produce faithful reproductions of works from French Master Cabinet Makers from the 17th and 18th centuries.

Allot Frères offer a range of over 600 models featuring a wide choice of lacquers, finishes, fabrics and hand-sculpted models to customise each part of the ... /50% unread/
